Allies Capture Enna

Axis Tactics At Catania: German Story Of Another Air Raid On Rome

HALF OF SICILY IN ALLIED HANDS

LONDON, July 21.

Allied Headquarters North Africa: The Canadians and United States troops have captured Enna said the Columbia Broadcasting commentator from Algiers.

It is officially confirmed that Enna has been captured.

The American broadcast said that a considerable number of German and Italian troops were cut off.

ITALIANS ADMIT EVACUATION

The Italians in their 'communique' to-day admitted the evacuation of Enna the Axis Headquarters' centre and communications key in the centre of Sicily. Through the town run the main road and railway line linking Catania with the west coast and with Palermo in the north-west of the island. From Enna, a number of important roads radiate north, south, east and west.

The Italian 'communique' added that Allies raided Naples and localities in Campania, Calabria and Sardinia.

AXIS TACTICS AT CATANIA

It is still not clear whether the resistance in Catania is a holding action to provide escape for the remaining forces or is designed to hold until the arrival of further reinforcements.

ANOTHER ITALIAN GENERAL CAPTURED

Another Italian General was captured yesterday, states a press correspondent at Allied Command post. He is Major-General Julio Porcinari commanding the 54th Napoli Division and he was captured with his H. Q staff by the 8th Army units.

CANADIAN G. O. C. IN AFRICA

ALGIERS: It is officially announced that Lieutenant-General A. G. L. McNaughten, G.O.C., Canadian Army is now in North Africa on an inspection trip.

Another Raid On Rome?

The German radio said to-day, Rome suffered a second air raid last night.

There is no confirmation in London hitherto of German reports of a second raid on Rome.

HALF OF SICILY IN ALLIED HANDS

From Reuter's special correspondent:—

Half of Sicily has now been captured by the Allies. The Allied spearhead is well beyond Enna approaching the lateral range of mountains that forms the backbone for the island.

The Catanian plain is now sealed at both the ends and the position of the enemy is becoming critical. At the approaches to Catania itself, the German command is throwing in counter-attack after counter-attack in order to save the city and the great highway that runs north-eastwards to Messina.

The battlefield is strewn with German dead and burned out equipment.

The Eighth Army is holding firm and in spite of desperate attempts made by the enemy its vanguards continue to make good progress towards the city and is taking a heavy toll of the crack German troops defending this area.

STEADY ALLIED PROGRESS IN SICILY

To-day's North Africa Communique states:—

"South of Catania, British forces continued to meet strong German resistance but steady progress is being made and the enemy has suffered very heavy casualties in his efforts to retain his hold on the vital Catania area. Canadian troops have continued their advance northward. The advance on the western sector continues to be rapid. French Moroccan troops, Goums, famous Guerilla fighters, have been in action.

Our bombers yesterday and during the previous night attacked airfields in Italy. Many bombs burst in the target area and numerous fires were started. Decimomannau airfield in Sardinia was attacked by fighter bombers during the day. In the course of this attack a small number of enemy aircraft were encountered and five of them were shot down.

On the night of July 19/20, medium bombers raided the focal communications point of Randazzo and light bombers attacked enemy road communications.

"Patrols and sweeps were maintained by our fighters during the course of which one enemy aircraft was destroyed. Road and rail communications in Italy were attacked by our intruder aircraft during the night.

"From all these operations six of our aircraft are missing."

GERMANS RETIRE TO EAST

At the western end of the island two Italian divisions which are known to be without transport are streaming eastward as their situation becomes impossible.

Prisoners taken by Canadians and Americans reveal that the Germans have retired to the east to make good their get away into Italy and that they have taken with them most of the available transports. This is a classic German move, which was exemplified once and for all in the retreat from Alamein when division after division of Italians were left stranded in the Western Desert. The position of the enemy defenders of Sicily now looks desperate.

Although Catania is being held temporarily at the cost of very heavy casulties, Canadians and Americans on the left of the Allied [illegible] flank threaten to turn the whole German and Italian line.

The general movement shows that the enemy realises this. The battle of Catania is, therefore, of paramount importance. Whether or not the enemy will defend the north-eastern tip of Sicily remains to be seen but the basic fact remains that he has lost control of the Catanian plain. The great city of Palermo and the important coastal towns of Trapani and Marsala have apparently been left to their fate.

VIBO VALENTIA 'DROME BOMBED

CAIRO: To-day's Middle East Air Communique announces. "R. A. F. Liberators and Halifaxes bombed the aerodrome at Vibo Valentia in the toe of Italy during the night of July 19/20 starting fires among the buildings. Bursts were seen between hangars and on the aerodrome surface. From these and other operations all [illegible]

AXIS RETREAT TO MESSINA

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, July 21:

The latest report reaching here to-night suggest that a general Axis retreat to the north-east tip of Sicily at Messina has begun. Pilots of reconnaissance aircraft reported that after the capture of Enna they had observed an eastward movement of all Axis troops, who appeared to be taking part in a general retreat to the north-east.

Harder Task For Eighth Army

"Due to the nature of the terrain and the location of enemy forces the task facing the Eighth Army, including the Canadians, is one of bitter fighting with generally slow advance, declared Gen. Eisenhower this afternoon. "This gives the Americans a chance of more rapid advance against less resistance to overrun substantial portions of the island and confine the enemy to progressively smaller areas". —Reuter.

Trouble For Axis In Bosnia

CAIRO, July 21.

News leaking out from Yugoslavia reaching authoritative sources here shows that severe fighting continues in eastern and central Bosnia, where the partisan army, which broke out from Montenegro under the leadership of Tito, the partisan commander, has taken the offensive and captured a number of important towns including Kladanj and Vlasenica from their Axis garrisons.

It is known that three partisan divisions which were engaged against more than double their number in Montenegro have now largely escaped to carry on their unceasing war against Axis communications.

DOCUMENT ON DE GAULLE

Churchill Fears 'Leakages & Breaches'

Denies Information To Commons Except In Secret Session

WESTMINSTER, July 21.

Mr. Churchill told the House of Commons to-day that he was not prepared to give any information except in a secret session about a document purporting to have been officially prepared to acquaint the British officials and British Press with the view of the Prime Minister on the subject of Gen. de Gaulle.

"I take full responsibility for this document the text of which was drafted personally by me. It is a confidential document and I am not prepared to discuss it otherwise than in a secret session and then only if there was general desire in the House.'

PUBLISHED IN U. S. PRESS

Mr. Churchill was asked if the document purporting to be this document had been in fact published in a Washington newspaper and why the American Press should be permitted to discuss these grave matters in public while the House of Commons was always confined to a secret session so that political responsibility could not be placed where it lay.

BEWARE OF BREACHES:

Mr. Churchill commented: "I said that I was not prepared to discuss this matter otherwise than in a secret session and I adhere to it. In regard to confidential documents there sometimes occur breaches—leakages take place and so forth. When these take place in another country, I do not feel that any alteration in our course of action is necessary."

Recognition To Fr. Committee

Mr. Anthony Eden, the Foreign Secretary, told the Commons to-day that the British Government were discussing the question of recognition of the French Committee of Liberation with other Allied Governments, but he was not yet in a position to make a statement. He had been asked whether the British Government intended to give 'de facto' recognition to the French Committee. He added that meanwhile in practice the British Government were treating with the Committee on all matters of common concern to French territories which acknowledge its authority and on matters affecting French forces maintained in British territory.

BEVERIDGE'S NEW JOB

Britain's Attempt To End Post-War Unemployment

LONDON, July 21.

Sir William Beveridge, author of the Beveridge Social Security Plan, stated to-day that he was beginning another important investigation into how full employment can be maintained in Britain after the war.

The study of this question, he said, would take six months.

"Maintenance of employment does not mean that we can avoid all unemployment", he said. "Some unemployment is inevitable in any country, which has a changing and growing economic system and you must cover that by unemployment insurance. But it is important to organize your industry and trade so that you do not get mass unemployment. That is what I am about to investigate."

Sir W. Beveridge says that he is still very hopeful that his freedom from want plan will be adopted and that Britain will thus lead the world in social reform.—Reuter.

THREE JAP WARSHIPS SUNK IN PACIFIC

Reuter's special correspondent at Allied Headquarters in South-West Pacific:—

After a Japanese light cruiser and two destroyers had been sunk and a third destroyer probably sunk by Allied bombers which swept down on "The Tokyo Express" convoy trying to run the gauntlet with supplies and reinforcements for Vila, what was left of the convoy turned tail without making harbour.

Vila is a port in the south of Kolombangara island nearest to the beleaguered Japanese garrison at Munda.

'Catalinas' shadowed the convoy all through the night and early on Tuesday morning and saw it divide into two. Two transports and three destroyers made for Vila with the remainder of the warships acting as cover. When the ships were in Vella Gulf which separates Komonbangara from Velia Avella, Allied bombers hurled themselves at both groups of vessels in a dawn attack.

The Japanese have made nine determined counter-attacks against Allied positions on Mount Tambu in the Mubo area of New Guinea during the past week, said Gen MacArthur's spokesman to-day.

Three hundred fresh Japanese graves found in Buigap valley suggest that these casualties are the result of recent concentrated air attacks and are probably additional to 950 dead already reported.

A telegram dated Tuesday said: Mussolini seems not to have been in Rome yesterday when it was bombed by over 500 planes.

According to a German 'communique' to-night, he was meeting Hitler somewhere in Upper Italy.

The two men discussed the Russian and the Mediterranean fronts "in an objective way which admits of no illusions", says the political correspondent of the German News Agency.

Hitler and Mussolini last met from April 7 to April 10 at the former's Head Quarters when the position in Tunisia after the Axis defeat at Mareth Line became serious.

This is the fifth time they have met since Italy entered war.

Soviet Advance On Orel Continues

FORTRESS OF MTSENSK CAPTURED: "GIGANTIC" NAZI EFFORT ON BYELGOROD SECTOR LIQUIDATED

MOSCOW, July 21.

SOVIET FORCES HAVE REACHED ERMOLAEVO, LESS THAN SEVEN MILES DUE EAST OF OREL.

The left flank of the Red Army forces east of Orel also have made a new ten-mile advance from Berezovets on the south side of the Voronezh-Orel railway and reached Dernovka, five miles due south of Mokhovoe station. The right flank of the forces advancing through the gap north-west of Orel has reached Buky, 35 miles north-east of Briansk.

"Orel-Briansk Railway Not Yet Cut"

Reuter's special correspondent in Moscow in a cable to-day makes it clear that the town of Gorodische recently captured by the Russians is not the one south of the Orel-Briansk railway which gave rise to an earlier indication that the Russians had cut the railway.

"The Orel-Briansk railway is not yet cut according to the latest information," he said.

The latest known position is that a Soviet tank column is now within five miles of the Orel-Briansk railroad at Studenkovo having advanced from Ilinskoe which was captured the day before.

At the western end of the gap, north-west of Orel, the Russians have widened their position and now stand only 35 miles east, north-east of Briansk. Soviet troops advancing from the east stand 17 miles north-east of Orel at Protasova."

NAZIS TAKEN BY SURPRISE

The Red Army took the Germans by surprise when they stormed their way into the fortress of Mtsensk, a key town some 30 miles north-east of Orel. The Russians inflicted heavy losses on the German garrison as they tried to extricate themselves. The Soviet troops had already infiltrated through the German lines and almost surrounded the town before the artillery barrage preceding the final attack was laid down according to the "Red Star." So quick were the Red Army men that the Germans had no time to blow up bridges over the river Zucha round the western side of Mtsensk.

Soviet troops penetrated into north-eastern suburbs while almost simultaneously Soviet tanks and mobile infantry fought their way into the southern suburbs.

TABLES TURNED

From Reuter's special correspondent: The Soviet advance in the Byelgorod sector has completely liquidated the gigantic efforts made by the Germans during their offensive, said a frontline dispatch to the "Red Star" broadcast by the Moscow radio to-day.

"Now tables have been turned", said the despatch. "The initiative is held by the Red Army. The Germans are forced to retreat farther and farther. They have flung their forces into counter-attacks and are sustaining enormous losses."

"Free Germany" On Soviet Soil

MOSCOW: A National Committee called Free Germany and consisting of German Nationals has been created on Soviet soil. The Committee is Vice-President is Major Karl Hertz. T headed by the well-known German writer Erich Weinert and the first Vice-President is Maj. Karl Hertz. The members include German prisoners of war, Reichstag Deputies, Trade Unionists and other personalities. The Committee was formed after a prisoners of war conference in Moscow on July 12 and 13, attended by delegates from all German prisoner of war camps in the U.S.S.R. It is issuing a newspaper in German, the first number of which has already appeared.

The Free Germany Committee's manifesto further declares: "Nobody will make peace with Hitler. The setting up of a National German Government is, therefore, a task that cannot be postponed. This Government, which can only be formed as a result of the war of liberation of the German people, will immediately stop military operations, withdraw troops to the German frontier and enter into peace negotiations."—Reuter.

No Jurisdiction To Administer Estate Outside British India

(Before the Hon. Mr. Justice Coyajee)

Abdullabhoy E. Chhas and Others ..... Plaintiffs

Versus

Akbarally S. Raja and Others ..... Defendants

The important question which arose in this matter was whether or not the Bombay High Court had jurisdiction to administer the estate of a deceased person which was situated outside British India.

One Samsudin Jiwaji died on 3rd May 1926, leaving considerable movable and immovable properties. The immovable properties were situated partly in Bombay, partly in Sidhpur in Baroda State and partly in Siam which is now an enemy-occupied territory. The present suit was filed for administration of the estate of the said Samsudin. Counsel for the first defendant raised a preliminary issue as to whether this Court had jurisdiction to administer the estate of the deceased which was situated at Sidhpur and Siam.

Delivering judgment, his Lordship observed that in deciding this issue the Court was invited to determine the title to one of the Sidhpur properties which the first defendant alleged had been gifted to him by the deceased in his lifetime. His Lordship then referred to Halsbury's Laws of England Vol. 6 Page 218 and observed that though in an administration suit the Court must try and effect as complete an administration as possible and not deal with the matter piecemeal, it had no jurisdiction to deal directly with the title to foreign immovable property or to give a declaration of title to land situated abroad. Distinguishing the case of Govindlal v. Bansilal (46 Bom. 249) and relying on a former decision of this Court in Ramacharya v. Anantacharya (18 Bom. 389), his Lordship held that this Court had no jurisdiction to administer immovable property situated out of British India. Having decided this preliminary point, his Lordship adjourned the matter to the 4th of August next for hearing on the merits.

Mr. V. F. Taraporevalla, Sir Jamshedji Kanga and Mr. B. D. Boovariwalla instructed by Messrs. Dallas and Co. appeared for the plaintiffs.

Mr. M. L. Maneksha and Mr. M M. Jhaveri instructed by Messrs. Merwanji Kola and Co. appeared for the first defendant.

Mr. K. A. Somjee, Mr. K. T. Desai and Mr. K. H. Bhabha instructed by Messrs. Mazagaonwalla and Co. appeared for defendants 4, 5 and 8.

Mr. A. A. Peerbhoy and Mr. I. I. Chundrigar instructed by Messrs. Gulamali Noorani and Co. appeared for defendants 2, 6 and 7.

Enhanced Land Assessment In Sind

KARACHI, July 21

It is understood that the Sind Government has passed orders introducing enhanced rates of land assessment from August 1, 1943. The orders, it is stated, will be announced in the form of a Government resolution detailing the rates which affect 56 talukas in both barrage and non-barrage areas. The new Revenue Settlement will be in force for ten years and the rates are expected to yield an additional annual revenue of 2 crores of rupees to the province. The revised settlement introduced by the Government is based on the sliding scale principle and the standard of assessment has been reckoned at 33 1/3 per cent of the Zamindar's net assets from cultivation after deducting Zamindar's expenses. The assessment to be recovered each year shall vary according to the average price of the crop concerned recorded over a prescribed period each year. The sliding scale is applicable to the cotton, rice and wheat crops.—A. P.

LOCAL FOOD COMMITTEES

At a public meeting at Patna, Sir Sultan Ahmed, Information Member of the Government of India, stated a plain truth when he remarked that questions of food and clothing are the dominating thought in people's mind in India to-day. Millions in India have good reason to be anxious about their food. For do what they can, they do not get enough food to eat. In countries under responsible Government if official food policies broke down repeatedly, the Governments would be turned out to make room for better ones. So it is that even to-day Britain is one of the best fed countries in the world. Things are different in India though she has natural resources enough to feed and clothe millions besides her own sons. As the Government of India are constitutionally irresponsible they defy the people and hold them responsible for all their ills. Mr. Amery goes so far as to say that one of the principal causes of our food trouble is that many use their newly acquired wealth to eat too much. Sir Sultan has another way to quarrel with his tools. He rails at the "individual' hoarders—he stresses the word "individual" perhaps because he does not want to be hard on some Provincial Governments for their profiteering methods. Now, most people in India live from hand to mouth and cannot afford to stock more than a few weeks' supply. The rich do not need to hoard large stocks because they know they can purchase foodstuffs even at a high price. Some traders may hoard large stocks but even that can be made impossible by Government if the officials concerned know their business. Making all reasonable allowance for the faults of the public we cannot but hold Government mostly responsible for their repeated failure to solve the food problem. If they cannot enlist people's co-operation, that is also their own defect because they do not proceed in the right way and in many places the authorities do not enjoy the confidence of the people.

However, it is clear that criticism has little or no effect on Government. Since, after all, it is the people that have to suffer most under scarcity, it behoves them to be prepared for graver emergencies and do everything they can to grow more food of any kind in their localities, whether or not they get the requisite help and co-operation from officials. As we have suggested before, every village and town must have its own popular food committee. These committees can do much to encourage the growing of more vegetables, poultry farming, fishing and such other subsidiary sources of food. The work of such committees can be valuable if Government appoint representative Taluka Committees to guide and otherwise help them. Some released Congressmen have already started local committees. Earnest Congress workers should aim at dotting whole districts with food committees. The food problem should be among the principal questions to be considered at the All-India Conference that we have often suggested.

Baroda

Baroda has long been regarded as a progressive State and its annual administration reports continue to show progress in various directions. But one cannot help feeling that for some years past the progress has not been fast enough for a State with such a good start. For instance, Baroda was a pioneer in making primary education compulsory, having started it quite fifty years ago Yet we find that only 23 per cent of the population are now literate, literacy among women being only 12.4 per cent. Compulsory education should be more strictly enforced and more attention should be paid to imparting literacy to the adult population. Similarly, Baroda was also a pioneer in penalising child marriages, having introduced the reform nearly forty years ago. Yet we find that percentage of child marriages to the total number of marriages is to-day 13.7, as against 13.4 in 1940 and 7.2 in 1939. We fear there has been regrettable laxity in enforcing the reform.

The fact seems to be that under autocracy, however benevolent, progress after a particular stage becomes nominal and can be speeded up only under popular direction. Unfortunately, the system of government in Baroda is still autocracy, however disguised by the show of a Legislative Council, which is more or less an advisory body, the executive being not at all responsible to it. For several years one hoped that the Ruler of Baroda would give the lead in the introduction of responsible Government. But the feeling now is that the initiative must come from the people.

What About India?

The Canadian Government rightly protested against the non-mention of their army's part in the original communique about the Sicilian campaign. Even Mr. Churchill admitted the objection to be reasonable and the communiques now specifically mention the Canadian contingent. Now, what is the position of India in this matter? The Eighth Army is taking an important part in the operations in Sicily and the Fourth Indian Division has been part and parcel of it throughout the N. African campaign. Is the Fourth Indian Division no longer with the Eighth Army? If not, why not? If it is, why is not that fact specifically mentioned? In common fairness to India the Government of India ought to stand up for the country even as the Canadian Premier did for his.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

Japs Suffer Again

The Japs have been stung again. In yet another unsuccessful effort to supply and reinforce their bases and garrisons in the Solomons area they have lost a light cruiser and two destroyers sunk and a transport and two other destroyers damaged. Thus during the last fifteen days or so alone the Japs have had to write off over twenty-five warships and other vessels and several hundred aircraft only in the South-west Pacific. They have suffered this damage, moreover, as against Allied losses that are literally negligible in comparison. American naval and air superiority has been proved by the events of the last few weeks so convincingly that it is now almost certain that the Japs would not risk a big naval battle in the area despite their brave threats. This will, perhaps, disappoint General MacArthur and Admiral Nimitz. But the next best thing continues inexorably. In defending their outposts against the increasing strength of the Americans, the Japs are being bled steadily and inescapably. This must be a painful headache for General Tojo and his fellow militarists.

Headache For Tojo

But that is not all. They have just received ominous warning of an even more painful headache. The U.S. Navy Department has announced a raid by Liberators on Paramushir, a naval outpost in the Kurile Islands some 1,200 miles north-east of Tokyo. This raid on Japan proper inevitably recalls General Doolittle's feat of over a year. The Liberators evidently took off from land bases in the Aleutians which means that at best and in good weather, which is rare, they can bomb the Kurile chains. But the headache for Tojo arises from the possibilities of the Aleutian area Once Kiska is recaptured, northern Japan will safely be brought within range of carrier based aircraft Northern Japan is, however, far less vital a target than the Central and Southern Japan. This can be reached and more easily and destructively. But it can only be reached by land based bomber from China. And that is a different story.

A Great Success

Further details so far received of the raid on Rome strengthen the conclusion that it was strictly confined to targets that had been specifically selected in advance. This means that areas which pilots were instructed to avoid at any cost did escape untouched. Confirmation of it is supplied in a way by Berlin and Rome themselves. If any important historic or religious monument had been affected both the Italian and German propagandists would have raised an extremely loud and lusty howl of protest. They do not appear to have done so. But they admit "very heavy damage," a description never yet given to the result of any raid on any town in Italy or Germany. Allied headquarters both Algiers and Cairo also claim that it was exceptionally devastating that, in fact, the marshalling yards were so badly wrecked that they would not be serviceable for months. In that case let us hope Rome is spared further air attacks.

A Word To Churchill, Linlithgow And Company!

The "Survey Graphic" of the U. S. gives us a pertinent finding of the Committee on War and Peace Aims:

"That the lessons of the recent military defeats in Malaya, Singapore, Java and Burma—emphasize the vital importance of prompt steps to give colonial peoples a larger and more responsible share in the Government of their own country".—And yet, Indian leaders are detained; Indian Constitution is scrapped; and Indian people are frightfully faced with food and cloth famine! What a shame to those in power in India and Britain!

Sir Jehangir the ex-Mayor of Bombay is the President of the Anjuman Party, and expects the solid support of that body in the election. Sir Hormuzdiar Dastur, the ex-Chief Presidency Magistrate stands on an independent ticket and stands the chance of receiving the support of the reformist section of the community.

The election will be by the voters of "E" and "F" registers maintained by the Panchayat.

Students' Unity

Mr. Lalu Shah Jt. Secretary, All-India Students' Federation has issued the following statement:—

"I take this opportunity of thanking the Students' Unity Committee for sending a copy of the "Unity Manifesto" to the A.I.S.F. Since practically all its members are behind prison bars, it is not impossible to express any definite opinion on behalf of A.I.S.F. on the Unity Manifesto. But in the light of the fact that the A.I.S.F. has always stood for the strengthening of the nationalist forces in the country and a united student movement, it is but natural that the Unity Manifesto will be extremely welcomed by the A.I.S.F.

Since for the A.I.S.F. it is not possible to-day to send detailed instructions to the provincial units, I think we shall serve our cause better if we work in the light of the Unity Manifesto. The Unity Manifesto is an important stepping stone for the fulfilment of the aims and objects of the A.I.S.F.

Kamalnayan Bajaj On Shrivastava's Move

WARDHA, July 16.

Mr. Kamalnayan Bajaj in the course of a statement says:—

"I have seen the statement of Sjt. Gopinath Shrivastava and of those who either supported his move or were opposed to it. Nobody will question the sincerity or the good intention of Sjt. Shrivastava. But under the present circumstances remedy suggested by him falls short of practical politics.

How can A. I. C. C. meet now when the Mahatmaji members of the Working Committee and the large number of members of the A. I. C. C. are in prison? Even if members are available to complete the quorum, I have my doubts how far the method suggested will be constitutionally correct? Moreover, it will always be open to the charge that the people who had passed the August resolutions were absent and thus it will neutralize the whole effort. Besides that could it be just and fair with those who are vitally concerned with it, and at the same time will not be able to help their absence?

It is being argued by those who have sponsored the ministry-making move that, at least, they can use their office for political propaganda; and also to express the real grievances of the public. Even if that could be accomplished, about which I am not in the least certain, what a price to be paid for that and under what humiliating conditions one is to make a ministry?

We must realize that 'No Action' some time is the best action. Not only that when the chosen leaders of the country are behind the bars their very spirit does a lot more than all of us put together could do.

I have been feeling it myself that the problem of food shortage and similar other difficulties are becoming very grave in the country. Those problems must receive our first attention. I would very much wish that influential and important people (no matter what party they belong to) should meet and find a solution for the same. If it is difficult to arrange a meeting of such people let Congress-minded men meet for relieving the burning problem of the time. I have no doubt if we seriously mean we can do a good deal to lighten the present distress if not to relieve it altogether.

In a message to the National Christian Council of India, the British Council of Churches says: "We are deeply distressed by the long continued political deadlock and deterioration of relations between our peoples." (our Italics).

We, on our part, are deeply shocked by the allegation of British Church leaders. It is unchristian, because untrue. And it is untrue because it gives the lie direct to the Secretary of State, the Government of India's, Maxwell's and Tottenhams and British and "Indian" spokesmen abroad particularly in the U.S.A.

Karachi messages speak of efforts by a League-Mahasabha leader—we mean a Mahasabha leader in the League Ministry, to arrange a meeting at Bombay between Mr. Savarkar and Mr. Jinnah.

According to a Calcutta report an 'Ulema Party" has been formed in the Bengal Legislature.

This is most undesirable and uncalled for. In fact, it deserves to be banned by a Fatwa from the League Leader.

But lest it should shock Burmans—and others—His Excellency added "when the time came for full self-Government..."

Meanwhile of course, Burma will belong where it ought to belong after the Japanese have been driven away.

Lord Halifax, we notice, advocates international co-operation after the war between Britain, U.S.A., U.S.S.R. and China because "I see little hope unless the Four Powers work together."

This is admittedly a very interesting change in the opthalmic qualities of his Lordship who not long ago, used to see little unless another set of Four Powers worked together, viz., Britain, France, Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy, with Imperial Japan thrown in as a distinguished collaborator.

In their latest attempt to defend their strategic outpost in the south-west the Japs have lost another three or four of their warships, announces General MacArthur.

Which shows that Japan's "strategical superiority" of which Tojo spoke the other day continues to bring good dividends.

Or was he referring to Burma? If so we must confess that the point has been well rubbed into us.

When a Bombay knight presents the Governor with a little sum of money for one or other of the war purposes, we usually splash it as a great philanthropic gesture, though the amount involved may be nothing in comparison to the wealth of the individual in question. Two weeks ago, unknown to many of us, an airgraph letter arrived from Mrs. Churchill to a lady, thanking her for £750 which this unknown lady sent in response to Mrs. Churchill's appeal for Russian women and children. This story begins to have some meaning when you learn—as I learnt with astonishment—that the address to which this airgraph of Mrs. Churchill arrived was a house in Foras Road, the heart of the red-lamp area. This story has been verified.

Just published is the Padma Publication FREEDOM FIRST by G. N. ACHARYA. It is quite the neatest production from this comparatively new publishing house, which appears to have found its footing quicker than publishing houses normally do. The book itself may be classed as a documentary of recent events, explaining the whole position which has led to the present political deadlock. A reading of this book will be a help to the understanding of the Indian problem as it exists to-day and even for those who know the whole set up, it makes a useful reference book complete with apt quotations from those who have at some stage or the other figured in the deadlock. Mr. Acharya is one of the reporters of the "Bombay Chronicle" and as such he has first hand knowledge of many of the incidents he touches up. He was among those few who were present that fateful August dawn when the sun set (instead of rising) on the Indian horizon and Mahatma Gandhi was taken from Birla House to the police car which has so often waited for to take him away. "Freedom First" says Mr. Acharya, "is not a mere slogan". It is a symbol of the hopes and struggles of India's millions. It is very readable and foreign correspondents should peep into its pages.

G. Vyavaharkar asked for the withdrawal of the case against Major C. C. Gulliland, without giving any reasons.

Major Gulliland, Secretary of the R.W.I.T.C., was arrested on 30th March, for the alleged non-declaration of 114-1|2 bags of rice.

The Magistrate in his order observed Mr. Vyavaharkar.... says that his instructions are that the Government does not want to proceed with the case and desires to withdraw it. He states that he is unable to put before the Court any reason why the Court should permit the case to be withdrawn save that his instructions are that the Government do not wish to proceed with the case.

"This, in my opinion, is a very improper application under Sec. 494 Cr. P. C. No. prosecution can be withdrawn without the consent of the court and the consent of the court should be given only for proper reasons. To ask the Court to permit the withdrawal of the case only on the ground that the Government does not wish to proceed with the case is tantamount to asking the court to surrender its judicial discretion to the Government.....

"I am, in no circumstances prepared, to allow any case in my court to be withdrawn, unless I am satisfied that there are good and proper reasons for its withdrawal. It his been my invariable practice to require proper reasons for the withdrawal of a case".

The case was adjourned to the 9th August.

PUBLIC NOTICES

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, DEPARTMENT OF SUPPLY, CALCUTTA.

For the assistance of machine tool users, a system of ordering and distribution of machine tools now in force is briefly described below:—

It has been arranged in consultation with the Machine Tool Authorities in the United Kingdom and the United States of America that all orders for the import of Machine Tools, whether intended for Defence, Government or for Industrial requirements, will be placed through the Machine Tool Controller, Calcutta, on the Secretary of State for India in London. It has also been decided that all orders for Class I, II, or III machines to be manufactured in India should be placed on the Machine Tool Controller. All orders for Machine Tools, therefore, will now be placed direct on the Machine Tool Controller, Calcutta. These Orders must be sent through the Regional Representatives in Bombay, Lahore, Madras and Cawnpore respectively whose addresses are as follows:—

BOMBAY AREA:—Mr. C. W. Clarke, Dy. Controller of Supplies (M & E) & Regional Representative, Machine Tool Control, Strand House, Graham Road, Ballard Estate.

LAHORE AREA:—Mr. J. M. Smith, Director, Munitions Production & Regional Representative, Machine Tool Control, The Mall, Lahore.

MADRAS AREA:—Mr. E. W. F. Johnson, Dy. Controller of Supplies & Regional Representative, Machine Tool Control, United India Buildings, MADRAS.

CAWNPORE AREA:—Mr. M. H. Ismail, Industrial Planning Officer & Regional Representative, Machine Tool Control, Office of the Controller of Supplies, U. P. Circle, Cawnpore.

Regional Representatives and the Machine Tool Controller have the right to modify demands in consultation with the indentor to ensure that the most suitable machine is provided for the type of work required. It will be for the Controller to decide whether the machine tool should be manufactured in India or imported from abroad. It may be necessary to substitute the machine tool demanded by some other type, and where possible the indentor will be given the option of accepting or declining the substituted machine, and all information relating to price, etc., will be given to him as early as possible. It will be open to the Controller to demand a deposit up to 100% of the estimated value of the Machine Tool before he actually accepts the order. Machines will be sold at prices to be determined by the Controller, which must be accepted by the indentors before orders can be placed.

All Machine Tools imported into India with the exception of those intended for factories under the control of the Additional Director General, Armaments Production, will be distributed through the Distributing agents appointed by the Government of India. Where possible, these Agents will be the recognised agents for the particular makes of machine tools imported, and will carry out on behalf of indentors the duties and services which would normally be expected of them in peace-time. Distributors will bill at rates determined by Government and received payment on behalf of Government for machine tools delivered to industrial firms. Except in the case of Government machines, Government will not be responsible for inland insurance, which may be negotiated direct between the industrial indentor and the distributor.

The method of procuring imports of spares and replacements will not be changed, i.e., it will continue to be through the various importing agents under Licence from the Machine Tool Controller, except for Defence Services who will indent on the Machine Tool Controller direct. Spares and replacements do not include Cutting Tools, which are dealt with by the Cutting Tool Control.

When a machine procured under Lease/Lend and valued at Rs. 500/- and over is allocated to an indentor, it will be a condition of the allocation and acceptance of the order that the indentor will undertake to abide by any instructions issued by the Government of India regarding the use and disposal of the said machine.

Joint Secretary to the Government of India.
